HANDALE PRIMARY SCHOOL SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS AND DISABILITY POLICY

Aims and Objectives.

The governors and staff at Handale Primary School are committed to providing an inclusive education to ensure the best possible progress for all its pupils regardless of their abilities, needs or personal circumstances.

The school recognises that all pupils exhibit individual needs and sometimes these needs can be complex and can inhibit their ability to learn. This policy covers all pupils for whom the term 'Special Educational Needs (SEN)' applies as defined below whether their needs are permanent or temporary in nature.

Definition of Special Educational Needs

- i. A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.
- ii. A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she:
 - has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
 - has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions
- iii. For children aged two or more, special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to or different from that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools, maintained nursery schools, mainstream post-16 institutions or by relevant early years providers. For a child under two years of age, special educational provision means educational provision of any kind.
- iv. A child under compulsory school age has special educational needs if he or she is likely to fall within the definition in paragraphs above when they reach compulsory school age, or would do so if special educational provision was not made for them (Section 20 Children and Families Act 2014).

Children must not be regarded as having a learning difficulty solely because the language or form of language of their home is different from the language in which they will be taught.

Special educational provision means:

- a) for children of two or over, educational provision which is additional to, or otherwise different from, the educational provision made generally for children of their age in schools maintained by the LEA, other than special schools, in the area.
- b) for children under two, educational provision of any kind.

Admissions for Pupils with SEN

The school follows the Redcar and Cleveland Borough Council Admissions Policy and Oversubscription Criteria.

Handale Primary School does not discriminate against pupils with SEN or disabilities in accordance with the SEN Code of Practice (2015) and the Disability Discrimination Act (2010).

Handale Primary School does not have a special unit for SEN provision although our Small Learning Community, which is a resource based provision of up to 10 children, aimed primarily at the children, that due to their needs, may have felt excluded within their mainstream classes.

Identification and Assessment of SEN

Handale Primary School is committed to early identification of special educational need and adopts a graduated response to meeting special educational need in line with the Code of Practice 2015. A range of evidence is collected through the school's general assessment and monitoring arrangements: if this suggests that the learner is not making the expected progress, the class teacher will consult with the SENCO in order to decide whether additional and/or different provision is necessary.

The school recognises the experience and professionalism of its staff and will respond to any concerns raised regarding a pupil's educational provision, progress or behaviour as a trigger to further investigation/assessment of SEN.

The school will work closely with all other professionals and agencies with a responsibility for the diagnoses of SEN, e.g. GP's, Educational Psychologists, Specialist Teachers.

Provision for Pupils with SEN

The Headteacher will allocate resources for the provision of Pupils with SEN.

The provision for pupils with SEN will be recorded on provision maps. There will be separate provision maps for Early Years/Foundation Stage, Key Stage One and Key Stage Two. The provision maps will detail any activities, programmes or specialist support that is additional to the normal routines in each class. The provision maps will include:

- The type, time, extent and duration of the provision.
- The member of staff delivering each different provision.
- The names of the pupils accessing the provision.
- The cost of the provision.

All provision maps will be reviewed every half-term to ensure they are effectively meeting the need of pupils with SEN.

The SENCo in conjunction with the Key Stage Coordinators and class teachers will ensure that a pupil's additional provision does not compromise their entitlement to be part of a class and to their access to their class teacher.

Handale Primary School uses the three waves of intervention outlined in the Primary National Strategy

- Wave 1 - quality first, class-based, teaching
- Wave 2 - additional, time-limited, small group intervention support programmes.
- Wave 3 – individual support

Individual provision maps are created for all pupils on the List of Pupils with Additional Needs, who require that extra support within the classroom, by identifying what intervention is being made, the objectives of the intervention and the pupil's targets and the extent and duration of the intervention. Individual provision maps will be issued in the first half of the autumn term each year and will be reviewed at the latest, by the end of the first half of the spring term. Individual provision maps will be shared with parents of all pupils with SEN. Parents will be able to comment on the provision being made for their child.

Parents of pupils with SEN may, at any time, discuss with the class teacher, SENCo or Headteacher the provision made for their child.

If a parent is unhappy with any aspect of the provision being made for their child then they will have the right to meet formally with the SENCo to outline their concerns. If this is unable to resolve the situation then the parent has the right to then meet with the Headteacher and, if desired the member of the Governing Body with an interest in SEN.

Evaluating Provision for Pupils with SEN

The SENCo and Headteacher will evaluate the provision being made for pupils with SEN through:

- Use of the school's assessment arrangements for pupil progress.
- Use of specific assessment data compiled as part of the provision.
- Observation of the delivery of the provision.
- Scrutiny of provision planning.
- Scrutiny of pupil's work.
- Discussion with class teachers and teaching assistants.
